BOSTON MORNING POST.

PUBLISHED DAILY, AT NO. 21 WATER STREET, BY BEALS & GREENE.—CHARLES GORDON GREENE EDITOR.

VOLUME XIII. NO. 164. TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 12, 1837. PRICE PER ANN. IN ADVANCE

MANHATTAN HOUSE,
NO. 63 DUANE-STREET, NEW YORK.

JAMES RYAN, from the Howard House, Boston, respectfully informs the public, that he has taken the large building in Duane street, 6 doors from Broadway, known as Rutger's College, for the purpose of a HOTEL and RESTAURANT. The interior of the building has been entirely taken out, and refitted expressly to suit the business of the present occupant.

Mr Ryan will keep the Manhattan House for the accommodation of Clubs and Parties. The best wines and Liquors will be furnished from his cellar, having been carefully selected from the best stocks in Boston, a large portion of them being of the celebrated stocks long in the cellar of Mr Gallagher, late of the Exchange Coffee House. Rooms will be furnished for References and Courts Martial. Transient and permanent boarders will be accommodated in the best style known in the country; and elegant apartments will be let, with or without board.

The Table d'Hote will be supplied with every delicacy of the various seasons. Breakfasts, Dinners and Suppers, of every description, will be served at short notice, and various Soups will be ready every day from eleven to three. Mr Ryan is confident that in this department, his own experience, added to the skill of the persons employed as cuisiniers, will enable him to please the most fastidious epicures, both in respect to quality and style.

Those friends who have known the character of Mr Ryan's House in Boston, he is assured, will find his accommodations better, his means more ample, and his diligence quite as untiring; and from such strangers in this city, as love excellence in the various departments of his profession, he would beg the favor of an early call, with the full hope of giving satisfaction.

☞ House was opened on the 15th June, 1837. eptf je17

MARLBORO' HOTEL.

The subscriber would respectfully give notice that he has taken the MARLBORO' HOTEL, and is now ready to see his friends. The house has been thoroughly repaired, enlarged, and neatly painted and papered. The furniture and bedding are new, and the accommodations in every respect are believed to be equal to any other Hotel in the city. No pains will be spared to furnish the table with every variety the market affords. Efforts will be made to furnish the table with the products of free labor, and provision will also be made for those who prefer vegetable diet. Religious worship will be regularly maintained every day, and as far as possible to prevent, no company be received or bills will be settled on the Sabbath. No smoking allowed. The Hotel will be kept entirely on the Temperance principles, and while not a particle of intoxicating liquor will be sold or used, it will be a quiet home for gentlemen travelling with their families, as well as for others. There are several suits of rooms for the accommodation of small families as permanent boarders. Application for permanent board will be received at the Hotel every day. N. ROGERS.

ECONOMY IN FUEL.—It is well known by all who have used the Anthracite Coal to heat their apartments in common parlor grates, that a large proportion of the heat is forced up the chimney and entirely lost. Therefore the subscribers beg leave to call the attention of the public to an article manufactured by them, called the BRYANT'S PATENT COLUMN GRATE. This improvement consists in such a disposition of the flues that carry off the smoke or heated matter that they shall at the same time contribute to the external appearance, while they expose great surface of heated metal to the atmosphere, thus saving most of the heat which generally passes off with the smoke through the chimney.

The above grates are perfectly simple in their construction, and are not liable to get out of repair, and possess all the advantages of the common grate, and are as rich in appearance as any grate manufactured. We have several patterns, some of which are adapted for heating stores and counting rooms, and as there are several of the above grates now in use, satisfactory reference can be given as to their economy and operation.

B. & H. also manufacture an article called the Etna Grate, particularly adapted for public houses and schools one of which may be seen in operation at the Washington Coffee House, Washington st., near the Old South Church, Boston.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE Subscriber considers it due to Dr. S. C. HEWETT, (as an act of gratitude, and to his fellow citizens, from impulses of humanity,) to describe, briefly, the condition of body, out of which he has been rescued, by the skill and practice of the Doctor

Before applying to Dr. H. the subscriber had (for nearly two years) suffered a malady, which had so far deprived him of the use of his legs, that he could neither walk nor stand Every day, the loss of power was greater; and the constant sedentary posture, to which he was doomed by day, depriyed him of refreshing sleep by night.

The want of corporal vigor induced such a prostration of mental energy, that the melancholy prospect opened before him, of years of life without action, and without regulated thought. And whenever sufficient light broke in upon his benighted mind, to make the darkness that involved his prospects horribly distinct,—there fell upon him such an 'avalanch' of misery that life itself became a burthen.

By the mercy of God, he is now restored to the power of motion, and to serenity of mind, by the skill and exertions of Dr. Hewett, and he publishes this (to him,) exhilerating fact that all those unfortunates who have pined in hopeless seclusion, or suffered like maladies in 'bitterness of hope deferred,' may know that there 'is balm in Gilead, and a physician there'—to whom all, who would apply, may be assured, that no sufferings (by rash unskillfulness,) awaits them; but that his mode of treatment is as immediately and constantly grateful to their sensations, as the result is successful and salutary.

JOHN B. DERBY,
late Deputy Surveyor of the Customs, Boston.

POETRY.

The following is the beautiful dedication of the "Drawing-room Scrap Book, for 1838," from the pen, we presume, of Miss Landon:—

TO THE QUEEN.

Within the page, oh, Royal Ladye!—seeking
To win but one approving look of thine—
Are pictured shores where foreign waves are breaking!
And distant hills, where far-off planets shine:
And yet above them is thy rule extending—
The Himalaya mountains own thy sway:
The British flag is with the palm-trees blending,
By the Red Sea, where now we seek our way.

And mixed with these are English scenes and faces,
Our lovely rivers and our summer vales,
Haunted by names whose memory retraces
How moral conquest over time prevails.
Beside thee grows the laurel, from whose branches
Are gathered many wreaths to honor thee:
Victory, that o'er the deep its thunder launches—
The sage's meed—the crown of poesie.

Our volume is a gallery, enshrining
The past and present of our native land.
Vast is the empire Providence assigning
Trusts to thy youthful and thy woman's hand.
Our English history has no hours more glorious
Than when a woman filled the island throne;
Elizabeth and Anne bequeathed victorious
Illustrious names, high omens of thine own.

The warriors, sage, and poet fill their story
With all the various honors of mankind;
May thy young reign achieve yet truer glory,
The pure, enlightened triumphs of the mind!
Too much in this wide world yet needs redressing;
But with thy reign Hope's loveliest promise came;
May thy sweet youth be sheltered by the blessing
A nation breathes upon VICTORIA'S name.

LONDON AND PARIS FASHIONS FOR THE AUTUMN.

Mantles—The Eccelide, a cashmere and silk material, chince and striped. Isos, a melange of silk and poil de Chevre; it has something of the appearance of moire. The Witzchoura Dubellon may be made in either of the above materials, but it must be trimmed with either sable or ermine.

Materials for Morning Dress.—Levantine folice, a soft silk in arabesque patterns; satin velonte, a beautiful material, at once satin and velvet; popeline lactee; it is shot with white which has a beautiful effect.

Full Dress Materials.—Pekin Prajela, a beautiful striped and flowered material. Pekin Labrador, flowered in wreaths. Armure Walsha, a silk of four colors. Victoreide, a very rich silk, the pattern of which resembles precious stones. We may add, also, a variety of damask, brocades and satins, of the most rich and elegant description.

Half Dress.—Silks are coming very much into favor in demi toilette; the pelisse robe is the form most in request; the corsages are tight, finished with collars of the shawl kind, and sleeves demi large, drawn close to the arm round the upper part by a ribbon, fastened in front of the arm in a bow with floating ends; the sleeve terminates in a deep tight cuff.

General observations on Sleeves.—It seems to be a settled point among our celebrated dress-makers, that long tight sleeves will not be at all adopted this winter. As to short ones, it is probable that they will suffer little change.

Mantillons.—One of the prettiest novelties of the season, and which may be adopted either for the morning visit, or the evening neglige, according to the material of which it is composed, is the mantillon. This graceful accessary to an elegant toilette, which may be said to hold a place between the mantelet and the fichu a la Paysanne, must be composed of poult de soie, and trimmed with black lace. When worn in the evening, it is composed of lace, the points do not descend more than five or six inches below the ceinture, the breadth on the shoulders is less than that of the mantelets, and the shape is displayed to much greater advantage.

Corsage a la Louise.—This form, which is a revived fashion, is expected to be a good deal adopted in half dress, they are made a three-quarter height behind—indeed, rather more so, but they descend low, and open in front in the demi cœur form, and are bordered by a narrow lappel, which is usually edged with lace, which is tacked narrow on the front of the corsage, but very deep behind, so that it falls over the back in the style of a collar.

Skirts of robes are expected, both in half dress and evening dress, to continue their ungraceful length. An attempt has been made during the last month to bring in dresses of a moderate and convenient length in walking costume. Flounces are spoken of as being likely to be most in favor. It is expected that a good many of those for silk dresses will be beaded and edged with velvet, or else pinked at the edge.

Hats and Bonnets.—We have not, as yet, any actual alteration in the form of hats and bonnets, to announce; but we think that brims have diminished a little in size, and there is every reason to believe that they will be still smaller in the winter.

Dress Hats.—Those of rice straw still retain their vogue. We have seen some of white satin. The fronts of the brims of those hats have diminished very much in size, so that the sides stand out more than they did. The crown is very small, so small, indeed, that it cannot be said to be placed upon the head, but upon the knot of hair at the back of it. Flowers continue to be employed to trim the interior of the brims of dress hats, but they are used only in very few instances for the crowns, for which feathers are almost universally employed.

Hats and Bonnets in preparation for Winter.—We are assured that for neglige, gray beaver hats trimmed with satin ribbons, and gold buckles will be in request. We may say as much for wadded and quilled bonnets. Peluche for half dress and velvet for dress, are to be the favorite materials.

Dress caps are at present made in the style of uncommon simplicity, but it is a simplicity of the most elegant kind. We may cite also a cap which has just appeared, and to which we may venture to predict an uncommon degree of celebrity; the caul was a cornet of the simplest form; the front placed very high, was ornamented only with a narrow blond, set on with very little fulness, and just over each temple a blue bell was placed at the base of a foliete, which drooped on each side of the face as low as the chin.

Autumnal Ribbons.—Those of satin, figured with velvet are singularly elegant; one half of the ribbon is plain, the other is either spotted or figured in very small patterns; the ends are always dentillis.

Feathers.—Marabout sauls are at this moment brought forward for the autumn, as are also birds of Paradise, spotted in gold and mordare.

Head dresses of Hair.—The hind hair continues to be dressed not only low, but very backward. Flowers are still the ornaments most in request for en chevenx, particularly field flowers.

Fashionable Colors.—The light hues of summer are still more in favor; but Ponoma green, ponceau, maize, and some new shades of brown have appeared.

BOSTON MORNING POST.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1837.

Letter to the editor of the Post, dated,

Washington City, Dec. 5, 1837.

Dear Sir:—Congress had assembled in very full numbers, although until the day before the meeting it was doubted whether a quorum would be present. The President's Message was delivered to-day, and you will of course have received it before this reaches you. Although there did not seem to be the usual excitement about the receipt of this document, yet it was listened to with the strongest interest by Congress, and the spectators present. The President again shows in a distinct manner the ground upon which he is desirous to separate the funds of the government from a forced connection by law, with Banks. He also decidedly refutes the gross misrepresentations of his views on banks as local institutions, and presents his opinions upon the subject of State Banks, in a clear light. He approves of them as State institutions, when properly regulated, and wishes no unfavorable interference with them. His only desire appears to be to place the funds of the nation within the control of the government, and not put them in the power of reckless speculators, to be spread abroad as many millions now are by the State Banks, with the uncertainty of ever getting them back. He has no objection, if Congress thinks best, that special deposites be made in local banks, and this is the principal point with the Virginia politicians. A very important view is presented of the land question, embracing the whole subject in all its bearings. The Post Office Department is deservedly praised. The monstrous iniquity of the Biddle Bank in trifling with the government and the nation in issuing and re-issuing the bills of the defunct banks, must make a deep impression. We have just heard, by the way, of the result of the Convention in New York, and learn, not with any surprise, of the influence of the "grand regulator," Biddle's Bank, in preventing the resumption of specie payments. You will read the Message with satisfaction. It will, of itself, command attention from every body who feels a regard for the welfare of the country. The President is in fine health. The opposition evidently wish the Message was not so excellent as it is. They may attack it as much as they please, it will sustain itself. I have touched on but one or two of its topics. It is full of valuable information and political wisdom, and advances the already high reputation of Mr Van Buren as a profound statesman.

Washington City, Dec. 6th, 1837.

The Message has been, for the last twenty hours, a theme of general discussion, and various are the opinions that are uttered in regard to it. The National Intelligencer of this morning, is out in a solid attack on it, and the tone of that paper may be regarded as the tone that is hereafter to characterize the opponents of the administration. The war has been commenced in advance, and it is not probable that it will be relaxed. It will be carried on, on all sides, with rigor and vigor; and time alone can tell the result.

The National Intelligencer may now be regarded as the legitimate organ of the whig party. It will, by common consent, be received as such; and, if I am correctly informed, the whigs will not attempt to get up another paper.

A few weeks ago there was a talk of establishing a press at the Capitol, to be devoted to the whig party, and overtures were made, it is said, to several editors to take charge of it. It was to have been published, if report can be relied on, by Mr William Ogden Niles, the editor of Niles's Register, a gentleman of much worth, but who, I should think, would be unwise in attempting any such project. Mr Niles is now the conductor of the Register, founded by his father, a periodical of sterling merit, and I should suppose he would injure himself if he were to engage in the management of a political publication.

The report that a Mr Southworth, late of Rhode Island, was to start a paper at the Capitol, is also contradicted. That gentleman, it is believed, did entertain such a design, but he informs me that he has abandoned it. So much for the new newspapers at the city of Washington. The Globe, as a matter of course, remains the organ of the administration; the National Intelligencer does the bellows-blowing for the opposition.

Contrary to the hopes of many and the fears of others, the city is destitute of strangers, and the hotels and boarding houses are not crowded. Little excitement prevails among us, and until after the holidays have elapsed, members of Congress will not attend to much business.

Old Mr Whittelsey, of Ohio, who is the only workingman, in fact, in Congress, struggles hard to induce the House to go to work in good earnest, and stick to it; but, as custom has established the Rule which exacts, that no man shall do anything till after the lapse of Christmas holidays, I very much doubt if Mr Whittelsey is successful. Disinclination to labor before Christmas, is not confined to any party—it operates on all alike. Men who are paid eight dollars the day, for sitting in Congress just as long as it shall please them to do so, are not very anxious to perform any unnecessary labor. The long sessions of Congress, will continue to grow longer, till the mode of compensation is changed. The old bill of 1816, introduced by Col. Johnson and advocated by Mr Clay, which stipulated the round sum of fifteen hundred dollars the session, was the best plan of payment, after all.

During the session, we shall have two contested elections. The first will be the case of Mr Charles Naylor, of Pennsylvania, the second will be that of Messrs. Prentiss and Wood, of Mississippi, who will claim the seats now occupied by Messrs. Claiborne and Gholson. Mr Naylor, will probably hold his seat; and in the case of Messrs. Claiborne and Gholson, the House will undoubtedly vote as it did in October—namely, that Messrs. Claiborne and Gholson were elected for the whole time of the 25th Congress.

The Abolition Question, will be called up as soon as the States are called on for petitions and memorials. Mr John Quincy Adams—indeed, most if not all the representatives from the New England and non-slave-holding States, are heavily charged with abolition petitions, remonstrances against the annexation of Texas, &c. The presentation of those papers, will, as a matter of course, if not of necessity, create much excitement and strong displays of feeling. It is not unlikely that the abolition party will succeed in getting these memorials printed, and referred to a select committee.

Nothing of the least consequence has transpired in Congress to day. After the reports of the several secretaries had been communicated, and some unimportant resolutions had been acted upon, both Houses adjoured at half-past twelve o'clock. Yours, &c. C. S.

The following are the concluding paragraphs of the Report of the Secretary of State, on the Relations between the United States and the Mexican Republic, accompanying the Message.

The relations of the U. States and Mexico, therefore, as they now stand, are these: The demand of the United States for justice for past injuries has been made in conformity with the treaty between the two nations; but apparently no public complaint has since been examined by the Mexican Government, except the conduct of Mr Gorostiza. The printing and distribution of his offensive pamphlet is approved by his Government, and justified as conformable to what was required by its dignity and interests.

To the other demands of a public nature, existing at the adjournment of the last annual session of Congress after five months' delay, no answer has been given. On three cases of private claims presented for final answer, answers have been given. The justice of two of them is denied, although one of them rests on a decree of the Mexican Government. Satisfaction for the one admitted to be just is not made. The Congress of Mexico, who have been considering the subject for eight or ten years, will be "incited" to pass upon it, when they meet.

Since the last session of Congress an embargo has been laid on American vessels in the ports of Mexico. Although raised, no satisfaction has been made or offered, for the resulting injuries.

Our merchant vessels have been captured for disregarding a pretended blockade of Texas; vessels and cargoes secretly proceeded against in the Mexican tribunals, condemned and sold; the captains, crews, and passengers of the captured vessels have been imprisoned and plundered of their property, and, after enduring insults and injuries, have been released without remuneration or apology. For these acts no reparation has been promised, nor explanations given, although satisfaction was, in general terms, demanded in July last.

From these facts a judgment may be formed of the value of the assurances that have been received from the Mexican Government, and of the probability of their ever being fulfilled.

The popular branch of the Alabama Legislature have passed the law authorising limited partnerships. It will do much, the Register says, to liberate from constraint considerable sums of money that lie comparatively idle in the hands of capitalists, in consequence of the risks of business, and the unfavorable aspects of the times, to assist the energies of enterprising young men, by enabling them to obtain aid to a definite extent, without endangering the fortunes of their friends, and to attract hither spare funds of foreign capitalists, to the great profit and increase of the city.

Mr Dixon's Concert, at the "Opera Saloon," went off with great eclat, on Saturday evening. So great was the applause several times, that Mr D. was compelled to desire the audience to restrain the expression of their admiration! Many of our first men were present. Mr Barr was complimented with several rounds of applause as he entered and departed from the Saloon, which he acknowledged with his usual grace and affability. The introduction of the small drum had a startling effect. Some little confusion occurred at the end of the performances, near the Saloon, in consequence of a horse's head being turned the wrong way, but order was soon restored by the remarkable presence of mind displayed by the groom, in turning the horse round—it was the work of a moment.

Anthracite Coal.—It appears that this coal, when burned in a close or unventilated room, produces a gas similar to that generated by charcoal. A woman in New York, who a short time ago went into a dining room that was heated by a small anthracite coal stove, soon experienced very alarming sensations, and was but just able to reach a window to raise it for ventilation. She remained quite ill for several days. This fact should be generally understood.

Colonization.—The ship Emperor sailed from Norfolk for Liberia, on the 3d inst., with about one hundred emigrants, mostly from the estates of the late Rev John Stockdell, and John Smith, of Virginia, who left them free by their wills, with funds for defraying the expenses of their emigration.

☞ Never man had such friends!—A basket of nice fresh eggs was left at our house on Friday, with the compliments of a friend in Sandwich, to whom we were before indebted for similar acts of kindness. These are evidences of friendship which will support a man in the most trying times.

A New Orleans whig editor was strenuous for keeping up the recent party carousal there three days, giving as a reason that it took three days to get through with the New York election. He must have been very dry, to have required three days' washing down.

A Tennessee paper, speaking of some Chickasaw Indians in its town, says two-thirds of them seem to be drunk. In consequence of which fact the municipal authorities had been obliged to pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of strong liquors to them.

Parker & Ditson have just published a beautiful Waltz, composed by Mr Edward Riddle, and dedicated to Mr J. G. Cantero. It has been arranged with an accompaniment for the Piano, by Knaebel.

The Italians at the last dates were looking out for a "flare up" from Mount Vesuvius. The premonitions of an eruption were evident.

Vandenhoff's Cato.—One of our most intelligent Correspondents, in speaking of the performance of Cato, on Wednesday evening, at the Tremont Theatre, says—

"Although I have been in the habit of attending the theatres for many years, I do not recollect ever to have seen this tragedy upon the stage till now. It has been said, and appears to be the generally received opinion, that it is only interesting in the perusal, not in action. I cannot agree in this decision. When originally performed, immediately after it was written, it was exceedingly popular, and drew great houses for many nights in succession. This popularity of the piece has since been attributed to party feeling, and to the circumstances of the time. These may have had some effect; but I think this drama has very superior merit for stage exhibition, as well as for the closet, and that it will always be well received by a cultivated audience, when there is not a degeneracy of the public taste. It will not, it is true, delight those who derive pleasure only from monstrous melo-dramas and the modern horrific tragedies; who riot in scenes and incidents which harrow up the soul; and who are only satisfied when they can sup full with horrors. But those who admire great and lofty sentiments, expressed in the noblest language; who can really enjoy the performance of Shakspeare's best tragedies, and those of other authors written in what may be called the classic style, in distinction from that of the horrific, cannot be otherwise than gratified with the representation of Cato upon the stage. It was not, on Wednesday evening, fashionably or even numerously attended, much to the disparagement, I think, of the literary taste of the city; especially, as we often find the veriest trash improperly honored with crowded houses. It had even novelty to recommend it; for there are very few in Boston, who can have previously witnessed its performance.

Mr Vandenhoff has a fine, noble, commanding person, and looks the old Roman to perfection. He has also a powerful, we might say, tremendous, voice;—but does not, at times, manage it so well, as we think he might. Though naturally clear, it is sometimes so thick and indistinct, apparently on purpose, that it is difficult, if not impossible, to understand him. We were better satisfied with him in Cato, than in any other part in which we have seen him. In this, however, we were not, of course, able to compare him with any other eminent tragedian.

Mr Murdock, in Juba, was excellent, as was also, in our opinion, Mr Gilbert in Syphax. Mr G. does not, we think, receive the credit which he often deserves. He is very unequal, it is true, and sometimes plays badly enough; but at other times, and in some particular parts and passages, he performs with great propriety and effect.

Of Mr Murdock, the writer of this article spoke favorably, soon after his first appearance here, and then anticipated his future success. It was in genteel comedy, however, that he was expected to excel, and not in tragedy. He has, thus far, fully equalled our anticipations in the former, and gone far beyond them in the latter. His impetuous and hurried manner, however, requires some check, and, indeed, has already been much tempered; but more calmness and deliberation of voice and action, and more frequent and sensible changes of passion in a speech, are still necessary. Under the influence of any strong emotion, Nature never utters a speech, and hardly a line, in the same tone, or under the influence of precisely the same passion. In such a case, the whole speech is never premeditated or known at the beginning; but one thought is suggested by another, and spoken in an entirely different tone, indicating a new thought or emotion. Under the influence of strong feeling, Nature never makes a set speech, premeditated and continuous. I am not certain that I make myself perfectly understood.

Mr Murdock's forte is, unquestionably, genteel comedy. For this his person, voice, manner, &c. peculiarly fit him. There is, however, a class of characters, in which we should like to see him make the experiment; we mean, that of genteel Irishmen, or such as Power plays so well. From a few words with the Irish accent, which we have heard him utter, we are inclined to think he would succeed in such parts. The performance of the Irish Ambassador would test his capabilities in this line.

P. S.—The foregoing was written before the announcement of Cato for a second performance. After witnessing it again on Friday evening, we have nothing to add or to alter, except to remark, that though there was a full pit, the boxes showed but few of the fashionable and literary of the city. We suspect that this noble drama is too democratic, too much imbued with the love and praise of liberty, to receive the favor and the patronage of our aristocracy. ***

The Salem Register states that the brig Curlew, Smith, which sailed from that port on Saturday evening, for Havana, went ashore on the eastern part of Baker's Island, a little before daylight, on Sunday morning, and is probably lost, with most of her cargo. Crew saved. The pilot left the Curlew at 11 o'clock on Saturday night. Capt. S. in attempting to put back, (on account of the appearance of the weather,) missed stays, and went ashore on the rocks. She had $5000 in specie on board, which it is presumed has been saved. The cargo consisted of fish, lumber, soap, &c., valued at $7000—the vessel at $2500. No insurance. David Pingree, Esq. owner.

Accident.—The South Boston Omnibus was upset near the Episcopal Church, S. B., yesterday afternoon, and J. K. Simpson, Esq., and Mr French, of this city, seriously injured by the accident. Mr Simpson's scalp was shockingly torn, and it was thought at first that his skull was fractured, but, upon examination, it was found that the bone had not been broken. The extent of Mr French's injury we were unable to ascertain. This unfortunate event occurred in consequence of the neglect of the City Authorities to place proper railings along the embankment of the street.

Exchange—We notice in the New York papers that exchange on England has come down to 9 1-2 per cent.

Biddle's bank is about levying its annual tribute in the South, in buying up their great staple, cotton, the last crop of which is now just coming into market. By depressing the value of exchange on England, the ultimate market for the Cotton, he depresses the value of Cotton in the Southern ports, and in this we may perceive the why and the wherefore, for the fall in the price of English exchange.

The Genius of the West.—A Western editor, who is political, of course, breaks out in the following sublime style. Our readers can guess the subject:—

"O hearne ye that mournful cry
Borne on the Western breeze?
O hearne ye poor John Wood cry
For votes upon his knees."

Phrenological.—A rhymester illustrate. the bump of destructiveness, in the accompanying epigram:—

"Jack, eating rotten cheese, did say,
'Like Sampson I my thousands slay,'
'I vow,' quoth Roger, 'so you do,
And with the self same weapon, too.'"

The democratic ticket for Common Council and Ward Officers, in Ward 3, and in some other Wards, we understand, has been chosen. We were unable, however, to learn the particulars with certainty last night.

Canada Matters.—We have before us the Burlington Sentinel of Dec. 8, and the Montreal Transcript of the 7th of Dec. These papers furnish very little of consequence in addition to what we have already published.—The Burlington paper asserts with great positiveness that the reports given of the St. Charles and St. Denis affairs in the loyalist papers are false, and only intended to frighten the patriots in Canada, and to raise the spirits of the royalists. The Sentinel states, also, upon the authority of a letter written from Highgate, that about forty Canadian gentlemen, who had fled to the American lines from fear of arrest, were attacked at Missiskoui, (on their return home after the proclamation of the provincial governor) by about five hundred loyalists lying in Ambush. The assailants killed one man wounded two, shot one horse, and took one prisoner. The patriot party retreated across the line.

The Montreal paper, of the date above mentioned, states that the troops despatched from that place on Thursday, followed the route proposed, taking a few prisoners, and putting to flight the "remnant of the rebel force," towards St. Charles, &c. The loyalists are said to have taken three guns, besides recovering the gun which was spiked on the first visit to St. Denis. We add the following scraps from the Transcript:—

"We hear through a source which scarcely admits of doubt, that Papineau and O'Callaghan, disguised, passed through Sainte Marie; that they travelled by night, and even then not along the highroad, having hired a chasseur to conduct them through the woods. They have probably reached the States.

Of General Brown nothing further is known, although rumour has been busy. He is said to have been again detained by a party of his own deluded, and deserted troops.

A detachment consisting of 1 Captain, 3 Subaltern Officers, 1 Surgeon, and 116 Rank and File of the regular troops—and a party of the Royal Montreal Cavalry under the command of Captain Ermatinger—marched yesterday afternoon for St. Martin.

A reward of One Thousand Pounds has been offered by the government for the apprehension of Papineau, and £500 each have been offered for 6 or 7 others."

We shall look with a deep interest for accounts by the railroad, there being reason to apprehend that a collision will have occurred between the St John's company of Volunteers, and the L'Acadie band of rebels. A gentleman of St John's states that at 8 o'clock yesterday morning the Volunteers got under arms to march to L'Acadie, for the apprehension of the murderers of Chartrand, who are known. This gentleman came to town by the cars, and states that the rebels were assembled under arms to resist the capture of their associates in crime.

We understand that the rebels have evacuated Saint Cesaire, after having completely sacked the store of Mr Chaffers, a loyal magistrate there.

This is the upshot of every thing interesting from the belligerents.

Business Items.—In various parts of the city of New York, building has been going on briskly during the present month, without any hindrance from the weather. A great help to the mechanic and laborer.

The Pittsburg Bulletin of the 4th inst. represents trade as active in that city up to that date.

The New Orleans Bulletin gives an encouraging account of the state of business in that city. It says—

"The handling and transporting such vast quantities of freight, keeps in constant and active employment crowds of sailors, deck-hands, porters and draymen. Every one appears to be hurried about his business—all is agitation, motion and jostling: and to one unaccustomed to such sights and sounds, the noise and bustle of the scene bewilders and astounds the senses."

The papers from Natchez agree that the commercial paralysis is fast disappearing. The city is thronged with cotton wagons and pretty women.

☞ The Madisonian's "distinct organization" scheme gets kicked and cuffed by the democratic papers as it deserves to be.

An incendiary was observed in an attempt to burn a barn in Providence, on Friday evening. The fire was extinguished before any damage was produced.

The report of the indisposition of Professor Wilson is contradicted.

The federal papers say that the idea of a third party is ridiculous and not to be endured—that the "distinct organization" conservatives must go with one party or the other, and will not be permitted to hold the balance of power. For once in our life we agree with the Gazette, that there can be but two parties, democratic and federal—to one or the other every politician must belong—the day for twaddling is past and gone—those who are not for us, are against us, and the sooner the lines are drawn the better. The sooner those who desire to be known as Conservatives or Loco Focos—those who are not satisfied with the name of democrat—go where their "affinity" calls them, to the federal party, the sooner will the democracy be rid of an incumbus, of a dead weight which has well nigh pressed it to the earth.—Eastern Argus.

A friend tells a good story of a fellow of North Carolina. Having been put in jail for marrying 13 wives, he made his escape and was seen three or four days afterwards by a gentleman, who recognized him. The gentleman, anxious to secure the reward for his apprehension, invited him into his house to dinner, and then slyly slipped out in pursuit of a constable; but great was his horror, on his return, to find that the culprit had absconded with his wife!—Louis. Jour.

Affecting Anecdote.—An afflicting spectacle of insanity, followed by a melancholy result, was witnessed a few days ago at the lunatic hospital at Saumur. A lady and gentleman went to visit the establishment, accompanied by their child, a little girl of five or six years old. As they passed one of the cells, the wretched inmate, an interesting young woman of twenty-five, who had irrecoverably lost her reason, through the desertion of a seducer, and the death of her illegitimate offspring, suddenly made a spring at the little girl, who had approached within her reach. In the height of her delirium, the poor creature fancied the stranger's child her own long-lost darling, and, devouring it with kisses, bore it in triumph to the further end of her cell. Entreaties and menaces having proved equally ineffectual to induce her to restore the child to its terrified mother, the director of the establishment was sent for, and at his suggestion the maniac was allowed to retain peaceable possession of her prize, under the impression that, exhausted with her own frantic violence, she would fall asleep, when the child might be liberated from her grasp without difficulty or the employment of harsh measures. This calculation was not erroneous; in a few minutes the poor sufferer's eyes closed in slumber, and one of the keepers, watching the opportunity, snatched the child from her arms, and restored it to its mother. The shriek of delight uttered by the latter, on recovering her treasure, awakened the poor maniac, who, perceiving the child gone, actually howled with despair, and in a paroxysm of ungovernable frenzy fell to the ground—to rise no more. Death had released her from her sufferings.—Galignani.

It is ever a melancholly duty to record the premature death of the pure minded, the virtuous and the moral; but when, in the mysterious purposes of Providence, we witness genius overwhelmed and the intellect clouded and extinguished, we feel within us the startling insecurity of all human expectations, and that virtue, talent and personal graces are alike subject to the inevitable doom of dissolution and decay. But, lamented Friend, thou hast gone! and we must not repine, but must look forward to that world where thy just merit will be known, and where the pure flame of innocence will brightly burn, with the clear light of Truth, (for that was thy polar star,)—there thou wilt be welcomed into a blest haven of rest and peace, where no persecuting tempest can reach thee and where the oppressed shall be free. Long hast thou suffered but thy agonies are now over, and thy last moments were blest with peace—for when thou wast breathing forth thy dying spirit, on the bosom of thy beloved sister, 'mid the dark mists of disease, which had so long gathered around the darkened intellect, thy last visions were of "descending angels, hovering thick around,"—and nought better can be said, than in thine own words on the death of one, whose memory you cherished, that

He has gone from the world, in the light of his fame,
As a star that was lost, in the morning's pure flame,
The bright est that shone at even;
But he lives in the home of the blest on high,
And his star is now hid in the glorious sky,
By the holy light of Heaven. N.

WAR! WAR!! WAR!!!

BETWEEN

"PHYSICIANS AND THE MATCHLESS SANATIVE."

1. WHY are some of the American Physicians making such strong efforts to PUT DOWN the Matchless Sanative? Let the Public answer.

2. Why did the German physicians at first OPPOSE Dr. Goelick, and afterwards acknowledge him to be a GREAT RENEFACTOR to mankind? Let the Public answer.

3. What medicine HAS cured, IS curing and WILL cure obstinate diseases which physicians CANNOT cure? Let Facts answer.

4. What kind of appletrees are most STONED and CLUBBED? Let Farmers answer.

5. Why are physicians constantly PELTING the Sanative and saying nothing against OTHER medicines? Let their Day Book answer.

6. How did Dr Adams attempt to convince Mr Webster who had bought a viol of the Sanative for a member of his family, that it was a DANGEROUS medicine? Let one of the daily papers answer. 'The recent experiment which Dr Adams tried with the Matchless Sanative, in giving a large dose to a dog, without killing him, clearly proves that the Sanative as made to CURE and not to KILL.'

7. Why do some physicians SECRETELY buy the Sanative and MIX it with their own medicines, which they use to their daily practice? Answer—that they may have the CREDIT of the CURES.

8. Why is a sick young man belonging to one of the first families in Boston, now using the Sanative, without letting the attending physician KNOW it? The recovery of his HEALTH will shortly answer.

9. Why are physicians trying to persuade agents to give up SELLING the Sanative? Answer—they know, if it should be for sale in every town in America, they would shortly be obliged to resort to SOME OTHER BUSINESS or else STARVE.

10. Why will the Matchless Sanative soon be the ONLY medicine used throughout the world? Let PHYSICIANS answer.

The above precious medicine (the original discovery of DR. LOUIS O. GOELICKE, of Germany,) is for sale wholesale and retail, in Boston, by D. S. ROWLAND, General American Agent for the Discoverer.

Also, for sale by retail, in most of the towns in America.

☞ In places where there is no Agent, the P. M. or any STOREKEEPER who shall write to the General Agent at Boston, will immediately be appointed an Agent

☞ Agents are requested to have the above inserted 8 or 10 times, (inside) in the papers published in their towns.

PERRYIAN INK POWDER.—Ink made from this Powder is most suitable for all kinds of Metallic Pens, exceedingly good for Pens made from Quills, and excellent for the Copying Machine.

The ordinary Inks do not flow freely down Metallic Pens, and from their corrosive nature are very injurious to them. The Perryian Ink possesses every good quality of the best Inks and has a glowing property peculiarly adapted for Metallic Pens and will not corrode them.

Writing performed with this Ink in a short time becomes of a deep raven black and never turns brown in any climate or under any circumstances

Should the Ink be considered too black it may be diluted with porter or ale. For sale by BENJA. LORING & CO., Stationers, 122 State street. is & os 6m d12

"No 930. H. B. Vans.—Neck Stocks—the frames finely wrought, well shaped, and very elastic, their general style and finish altogether of a superior order, shewing great perfection in this manufacture—they were the best exhibited."

KNIGHT'S PATENT SPRING PEN-HOLDER.—The New Patent Spring Pen-Holder, while it renders the act of writing itself easier with any pen, leaves to the Metallic Pen all its advantages over the Quill, and entirely obviates the disadvantages. By allowing the length of what may be called the axis of the Pen, or the distance between the nibs and the writer's fingers, to vary according to the pressure made, the hand may descend considerably without making the pen scratch the paper, and rise without causing the pen to leave it. The freedom of motion thus attained produces these effects:—

1. The difficulty of writing with the common Steel Pen at once ceases when the Pen is united with the Patent Spring-Holder.
2. The fatigue is prevented.
3. The slowness is replaced by rapidity.

The elasticity of the Holder is regulated by a screw, so that every writer is enabled to adjust it to his own habits or fancy.

The instrument is not in the least complicated, and not liable to be out of order.

It may be used with any of the numerous descriptions of Metallic Pens now made

It is not of expensive construction, so that it may be attained at small cost, by the thousands of persons who now use the Steel Pens.

CERTIFICATES TO DR BONAUD.
Barrister's Hall, Court Square, School street.

DR BONAUD, with thankfulness to the public for their estimation of his Vegetable Medicine, and happy that he has it in his power to furnish the public with a truly valuable preparation, has the honor to offer for inspection and as a proof of the virtue of his Curative Panacea, the annexed certificates from respectable individuals of this city who have tested its power.

Boston, Aug 25, 1837.

Dr Bonaud. Dear Sir—
In accordance with your request, I would state that your Vegetable Medicine has done for me that which I never expected to see accomplished. My complaint (Fistula) seemed to be more than equal to the means employed to eradicate it. Accidentally seeing your advertisement in one of our Boston newspapers, it induced me to give the medicine a trial. After a few doses, perhaps twenty, I found the fistula began to heal, and now, at this present writing, it appears to be perfectly healed. Had it not been for your very valuable medicine, in all probability I should now be afflicted with this unwelcome complaint. S. N. D. 52 Washington st.

To Dr T Bonaud, Sir—
Having been a witness of the efficacy of your Vegetable Switzerland Powders, and in a case in which I was deeply concerned, allow me to bear public testimonial of their beneficial effect.
Sometime during the last winter, my Daughter became ill of the Fever, which was prevalent at that time in this city; the disease was termed, I believe, by physicians, the Malignant Fever. She had a very violent attack of it, which lasted for two months. At last, after a severe trial, she recovered; and, by the use, I believe, (under Providence) of your Switzerland Powders.
Another Girl, about the same age, was cured of the same disease, by the same Medicine.
I know not whether my child would not have recovered under the care of one of the Faculty; concerning that I have nothing to say. My only wish now is to bear testimony to your invaluable powder. Yours respectfully,
R. HOGAN, Langdon place.

The 3d of January, after breakfast, I was taken with Paralysis, having lost all faculties, and being to all appearance, dead. I was taken to my bed and bled by Dr Bonaud, whose medicines were given to me, and after taking 3 doses I recovered from that severe illness.
LAURA TAMMER, Nassau.

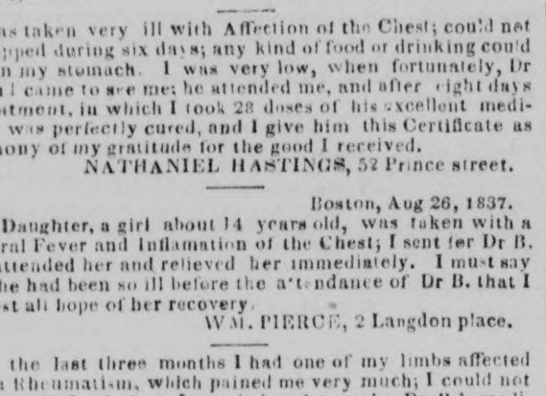

Boston, Feb. 8, 1837.
About three years ago I was taken with a particular disease, every part of my body was alternately painful. Finding myself without hope of recovering I took different kinds of medicines, but without any success, for they made me worse. Having heard of the good effect of Dr Bonaud's medicine, I called on him and procured 8 doses of it, which restored me to perfect health. NANCY GREENLEFF, 38 Salem st.

Boston, Aug 12, 1837.
Mr Mear, my boarder, had been attacked with a sickness which affected his bowels; he suffered very much. I called on Dr Bonaud, who attended him, and after 3 doses of his medicines he recovered.
I am to certify that my Wife was suffering with a disorder which rendered her unable to attend on her duty, and my youngest daughter was also taken ill with a bad Cough, both were restored to health after a short treatment.
My daughter Juliana was also affected with sore legs since three years age, after taking Dr Bonaud's medicine she was perfectly cured. JOSEPH WORMELL.

I was taken very ill with Affection of the Chest; could not be stopped during six days; any kind of food or drinking could stop in my stomach. I was very low, when fortunately, Dr Bonaud came to see me; he attended me, and after eight days of treatment, in which I took 28 doses of his excellent medicine I was perfectly cured, and I give him this Certificate as testimony of my gratitude for the good I received.
NATHANIEL HASTINGS, 52 Prince street.

Boston, Aug 26, 1837.
My Daughter, a girl about 14 years old, was taken with a Cerebral Fever and Inflamation of the Chest; I sent for Dr B. who attended her and relieved her immediately. I must say that she had been so ill before the attendance of Dr B. that I had lost all hope of her recovery.
WM. PIERCE, 2 Langdon place.

For the last three months I had one of my limbs affected with a Rheumatism, which pained me very much; I could not get any relief. At last, I was induced to take Dr B.'s medicine, and after three doses was completely relieved.
At that time was in my boarding house, a Child, 3 years old, who was affected with Paralysis on the right side, accompanied with Scarlet Fever; 6 doses of the above medicine were administered, which immediately cured him. I wish every body who received good from Dr B's. medicine would do the same as I do. n7 tf MARY BABCOCK.

THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered.
These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the Human System, derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or, in other words, an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.
So well is this understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell, that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr Kingley is confident that the famous Hygeian Theory, so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint—the effect and not the cause of disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile, and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver, and restore it to a healthy state.
Dr Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent then pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show.
Dr Kingley flatters himself that his long experimenting with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purposes of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils. One great quality of his Family Pills is, that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging, but they regulate the liver, change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system.
They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and convey almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness, from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.
The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for the jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach, heartburn, all bilious complaints, fevers of all kinds, and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness. They are invaluable in nervous and hypocondriacal affections, loss of appetite, and all complaints to which females alone are subject. They operate as a mild and speedy purge, and are a safe and certain remedy for worms in children.
Since I have introduced my Universal Family Pills to the public, I have received numerous certificates of their superior efficacy in curing diseases; also many letters from respectable physicians who have used them in their practice with the best success.
I might publish a small volume of certificates, but consider it unnecessary, as the medicine will recommend itself to all who will make trial of it. JOHN KINGLEY.
These Pills are put up in neat boxes of two sizes, the small size contains 25 pills, and the retail price is 25 cents, the large size contains 60 pills, the price is 50 cents.
PALMER, JONES & BLAKE have been appointed agents for the above pills for the New England States. Druggists and others can be supplied wholesale and retail, upon application to them at No 44 Hanover st, Boston.

ERADICATOR

DR LESAGE'S SPECEFIQUE FOR SECRETES MALADIES, or 'Gonorrhea Eradicator.' The above remedy for the most distressing disease incident to the human race, originated from the enlightened mind of the eminent Le Sage, the promulgation and success of which throughout the kingdoms of France and Italy, has, of late years, added such high honors to the already highly honored name of the inventor. This composition unites safety with efficacy. And the venereal disease, whether in the form of 'Gonorrhea' or 'Gleet,' is eradicated by the use of it, with certainty and success, and the sufferer is restored to his usual health, without delay, or inconvenience. Tens of thousands of 'Parisians' will accede to the truth of these remarks and it is confidently offered to those afflicted, as the best and surest remedy for the above mentioned loathsome disorder.—The secret has hitherto been confined to France and Italy.—It is now for the first time introduced by way of 'New Orleans' to the American public, and is sold, in this city, only at No. 48 Ann street, opposite Merchants' Row, near the Market, by E. THAYER, Jr., Druggist.
It is particularly recommended to sea-faring men as containing no portion of Mercury, whereby so many have been disabled from service on board ship.
The 'Eradicator' is found to give immediate relief to those afflicted with 'strictures,' 'whites,' and diseases of the prostrate gland.

Albata Everpoint and Pen and Everpoint Pencil Cases—Holders of every description.
CAUTION.
To the Public.—From the well-merited and universal celebrity of the above Pens, as attested by the whole mercantile community in Europe and the United States, several unprincipled makers have endeavored to impose upon the public, by a spurious imitation, purporting to be the original JOSEPH GILLOTT'S PATENT, but which are utterly worthless, and entirely destitute in those qualities requisite to fine writing, which have established such an unparalleled demand for the original in every country where it is known!!
The public are hereby cautioned to be upon their guard against these counterfeits, they may readily be detected by their unfinished appearance, and by the inferior style in which they are sent into the market, in their attempt to delude the unwary.
Further to guard against the fraudulent imposition, the public will please to observe that each groce of the genuine Pen is enveloped in a neatly printed wrapper, descriptive of the article it contains.
Each patent Pen marked thus, "Joseph Gillott's Patent"—and all other kinds are marked either "Joseph Gillott's Warranted" or "Joseph Gillott Maker"—in every instance the mark reading from the point of the Pen.
The above may be had, wholesale at 199 Beekman street, N. York, and GEO. H. GRAY & CO. Boston.
